

MAHARISHI UNIVERSITY OF VEDIC MEDICINE

MASTER DEGREE PROGRAM Courses in Maharishi Vedic Medicine (Maharishi Ayurveda)

CURRICULUM OVERVIEW

Theme 4: Treatment of Chronic or Severe Stages of Disease. Continued focus on the eight major organ systems with emphasis on clinical practice as understood in Vedic Medicine and contemporary medicine.

- Module 1 Human Physiology: Expression of Veda and Vedic Literature IV: The fabrics of immortality in human physiology).
- Module 2 Scientific Foundation of Contemporary Medicine and Vedic Medicine IV.
- Module 3 Eight Major Organ Systems of the Body IV: Treatment of stages of disease
- Module 4 Vedic Pulse Diagnosis IV: Advanced pulse diagnosis.
- Module 5 Ayurveda IV: Treatment of stages of diseases.
- Module 6 Vedic Medical Diagnosis II: Using advanced Vedic diagnostic techniques.
- Module 7 Vedic Clinical Practice I: Rotations in a Vedic clinic.
- Module 8 Vedic Clinical Practice II: General practice, community health.
- Module 9 Public Health I: Hygiene, infectious disease, parasitology, immunization, medical social work, family and community medicine, and epidemiology.
- Module 10 Legal and ethical issues—Medicine in accord with national law and Natural Law.
- Module 11 Seminar on the latest advances in medical knowledge and technology.
- Module 12 Review of the knowledge; examinations.

Theme 5: Trainee Internship—Complete Knowledge and Technologies of Perfect Health Applied in Vedic Clinical Practice. Students complete their Vedic clinical practice in a hospital or community setting.

- Module 1 Vedic Pulse Diagnosis V: Integration of pulse with modern methods in clinic and community setting.
- Module 2 Ayurveda V: The use of Vedic treatments in clinics and community health settings.
- Module 3 Vedic Medical Diagnosis III: The use of advanced Vedic medical diagnosis in clinical and community health settings.

- Module 4 Vedic Clinical Practice III: Rotations in Vedic clinics.
- Module 5 Vedic Clinical Practice IV: Primary health care: general practice, family medicine, community health, and social medicine—creating ideal health in the individual, family, community, nation, and world.
- Module 6 Public Health II: National and international health policy.
- Module 7 Preparing for Professional Practice: Seminar in which students apply and integrate the fundamental theoretical knowledge with the practical experiences gained during rotations in Vedic clinical and community settings.
- Module 8 Seminar on the latest advances in medical knowledge and technology.
- Module 9 Review of the knowledge; examinations.
-